CUT THE CROP.

Not More than Half Usual Acreage Put Out.

Nearly Seven Hundred Hogheads of Tobacco Sold on Local Market this Week.

Hoghead sales this week amounted to 644, and receipts were 450. Receipts for the year, 4,625 hogheads, and sales for the year, 2,871. There were only 44 rejections. No material change reported in quotations.

The sales of loose tobacco on the floor by R. M. Woodruff & Co. were very heavy this week, and prices obtained were satisfactory. Leaf was firm, while lugs were in active demand.

The growing crop has been put out and is looking well. A number of farmers over the country have been interviewed in regard to the 1904 acreage and a summary shows that there is not more than fifty per cent of the usual crop planted in Christian. While some planters have put out the usual acreage, there are others who only planted one fourth of a crop. This is especially noticeable among the larger farmers. One South Christian planter cultivated one hundred acres last year and this year he only put out fifteen acres. Another, who last year set seventy-five acres, this year put out eighteen. There are two reasons for this condition. In the first place there has been a scarcity of plants and in the second, the low price of the weed caused many farmers to cut their crop short, planting more corn.

HUNDREDS LOST

Steamboat Horror in the Waters Of New York

Sunday School Excursion Turned Into a Holocaust of Fire.

New York, June 15.—Five hundred persons, mostly children, perished to-day by the burning of the excursion steamer General Slocum near Hell Gate in the East river.

The Slocum with the annual Sunday-School excursion of St. Mark's German Lutheran church of this city on board was proceeding up the river to one of the many resorts of Long Island Sound. When near 125th street persons on shore saw smoke and flames spring from the upper part of the crowded steamer.

A panic ensued on the boat almost instantly. The crowds on the forward deck began to spring overboard or to crowd to the after part of the boat. The screams of the terrified passengers could be heard on shore and hundreds of small boats immediately put off to the rescue. Owing to the rocks on either side of the channel at this point it had been impossible to beach the vessel.

The captain struck his post at the wheel and headed the vessel straight up the river for North Brother Island, where she was put aground in the shallow water. Several hundred feet of open water still lay between the burning steamer and the shore and many persons perished either in the water or on the burning vessel after she had been beached.

It was estimated that the steamer carried more than 2,000 persons. She was the largest excursion steamer in these waters and could carry 4,000 people.

Death Toll Exceeds 600.

New York, June 16.—The loss of life will exceed 600. Approximately 600 bodies have been recovered and are now being tagged at the morgues of Bellevue Hospital and Harlem. Divers were still busy at a late hour taking bodies from the hold of the vessel, which, they say, is choked with the remains of human beings, while the bodies of scores who leaped or were thrown into the river have not been recovered.

The Knickerbocker Steamship Company, which owns the Gen. Slocum, officially states that the number of passengers was 573, that being only one-third of the vessel's capacity. It is thought, however, that there were several hundred children in arms, for whom fares are not usually charged on these trips, on board.

The scenes on the deck of the steamer as she proceeded up the East river was one of merry-making customary on such occasions. The mass of flags fluttered in the June breezes, the bands were playing and the children were singing, dancing and waving handkerchiefs in answer to the salutations of those on shore or from passing steamers.

Bodies in Whirlpools.

The scene was one of frightful panic, with women and children jumping overboard and being dashed by the channel whirlpools against the vessel's sides. Women and children were crowded together on the hurricane deck, which soon burned away and fell, and it is believed that most of those on this deck were burned.

The after rail gave way and the passengers who had crowded against it were pushed into the river. Mothers and children became separated and frantically sought each other, while in several cases fathers and mothers gathered their children together and jumped with them into the water. Little children holding each other by the hand jumped together, and were afterward found clasped in each other's arms. It is alleged that men fought with women to escape,

Flame-Enveloped Run.

During her flame-enveloped run to North Brother Island the Gen. Slocum's whistles kept blowing for assistance, but before the whistles began to blow several tugs, the Captains of which had seen the outbreak of the flames, started after the vessel, by a yacht, while several rowboats put out from the shore.

The number of these craft constantly grew, and not the least dramatic incidents of the catastrophe were the efforts of the people on these boats to rescue those who had jumped overboard from the burning vessel. Men crowded to the rails of the tugs and caught up the drowning persons as they were borne by the current. There were many thrilling rescues by this means.

North Brother Island, where the vessel was beached, contains a scarlet fever ward. The patients who witnessed the disaster were ordered indoors, and the doctors hastened to the rescue of those who had been washed ashore, but some scores of persons died while they were being attended to.

Capt. Van Saeck and his two pilots, Edward Van Wart and E. N. Weaver, have been arrested.

There were many applicants for the place, but Dr. Board decided to promote Miss Hancock, although she was not an applicant.

WON PROMOTION BY PUNS.

Clergymen Who Have Been Rewarded for Their Ready Wit and Facetiousness.

Canon McVieille, who died the other day, in his ninety-second year, owed his earliest promotion to a pun. When the late earl of Dudley, who knew Mr. McVieille sufficiently to remember that his Christian name was David, had a living at his disposal, he received a letter containing only the words: "Lord, remember David." The earl's reply was no less terse and Scriptural: "Thou art the man!"

Perhaps the earliest instance of ecclesiastical promotion won by a pun is that of a curate named Joseph, who was prompted by Swift to take this text for a sermon preached in St. Patrick's cathedral, Dublin, before the vicar, "Butler," duke of Desmond: "Yet did not the chief Butler remember Joseph, but forgot him."

Rev. Mr. Mountain, who was the son of a leger, owed nearly every step of his successive promotions in great part to his facetiousness, and won the last step of all by a single jest. When he was consulted as bishop of Durham by George II. as to the fittest person to fill the vacant archiepiscopal see of York, he replied: "Sir, hadst thou faith as a grain of mustard seed, thou wouldst say to this Mountain dramatically striking his breast, 'Be thou removed and cast into this sea (see)!' That George II. should so understand and appreciate the joke as to accept his suggestion is perhaps the strangest part of the story.

Apocryphal puns, promotion and the see of York, here is a good story of a living given by an archbishop of York in reward for an important personal pun. The archbishop, Sir William Hawes, entertained his clergy to dinner shortly after the death of his wife, Mary, who appears to have been a regular Mrs. Prondie at once to his grace and to the diocese. At dinner the archbishop apologized, with a sigh, for things not being in the apple pie order that prevailed when his dear, dead wife, Mary, was alive. Being himself an inveterate punster, he added, with a shudder of his head: "Sir, indeed, was Mary 'Pacifium'?" A curate who knew too well what a tartar the deceased lady was, rejoined: "Aye, my lord, but she was first 'Mare Mortuum' and was absolutely and immediately rewarded by the archbishop for this important pun with a living of £200 a year.

A HEDGEROW ARISTOCRAT.

Interesting Points About the Well-Known Sassafras Which May Be New to Some.

An aristocrat of the hedgerows is the sassafras, the buds of which have recently burst into clustered panicles of delicate greenish yellow bloom. It is an American cousin of the camphor tree, the cinnamon and the laurel, says the New York Times.

Comparatively few of the many to whom sassafras is a household word know that it bears flowers. Those appear simultaneously with the first tender leaves, and being of the same color with them, are apt to be overlooked by all but the nectar-seeking bees. Yet these blossoms are among the loveliest sights of our spring, contributing much to the beauty of landscapes.

The aromatic little tree was highly esteemed by our forefathers and served them numerous uses now all but obsolete. The bark was employed in a variety of ways in medicine; the pith supplied a minge from which an eye wash was made; and as for the wood itself it was thought to be so repugnant to bugs that sassafras bedsteads were said to be immune from insect pests.

Sugar and the Teeth.

There is a prevalent notion that if children are allowed to eat sugar they will have bad teeth as a consequence. There is no foundation whatever for such a notion. The negroes of the West Indies are excessive consumers of sweets. They eat an enormous amount of sugar-cane, molasses and raw sugar. Yet these people have particularly fine teeth. Whatever other injuries sugar may be capable of doing to the human system, it is very certain that it does not do any injury to the teeth, either in old or young persons.—Medical Talk for the Home.

"Crazy Kate" Waits for Her Husband to Return From the War

"Crazy Kate" Marras, the aged and demented woman who has been an object of pity and interest to passers by at the curb at the northwest corner of Fifth and Jefferson streets for nearly twenty years, was sent to the workhouse for three months this morning.

According to a well authenticated story told of the woman, she was a bride at the opening of the Civil war, when her husband joined the Confederate army. He never returned from the war and grief over it unbalanced her mind.

At almost all times of the day or night she is to be seen at Fifth and Jefferson streets eagerly scanning the faces of everyone who passes and looking up and down the street at frequent intervals. She says she still expects her husband to return from the war, and that she is waiting for him.

It is said that she has been sleeping under the steps of the Cathedral for some time and spending many of the coldest nights of the winter there. Cabmen who stand at the same corner, it is said, have several times saved her from starvation.—Louisville Post.

Judge C. C. Givens, county judge of Hopkins county, has tendered his resignation to take effect July 1. He gives as a reason that the office pays only $1,000 to $1,200 a year and that his private business forces him to give it up. Judge Givens is editor of the Herald and one of the most influential Democratic leaders of his county. Forepaugh will probably be after him to exhibit him as the only Kentuckian who ever voluntarily gave up a $1,200 job.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly recurring to the cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

The Owensboro Inquirer calls attention to the fact that the editor of the Kentuckian was "defeated" for State Executive Committee man for the recent district convention. If the Inquirer desires to be fair and truthful, it may state that Mr. Meacham had been elected to the position four times without opposition and that when he found another Democrat desired the place he had held for ten years, he declined to be a candidate. It may also be said that for reasons of his own, he declined a promotion to the position of State Central Committee man, being urged to accept the place by those credited with his "defeat." Furthermore, he occupied a position doubtless considered unique from the standpoint of his detractors, in that he was a delegate to the convention and backed by the support of his own county.

The exposition business is about to be overdone in this country, but we are already looking forward to another one. The celebration of the centennial of the Lewis and Clark expedition will begin at Portland, Oregon, June 1, 1905, and close Oct. 15. The United States appropriated $475,000 and Oregon $450,000. The city of Portland gives $230,000 and other states have run the outlay up to about $5,000,000. The grounds will occupy 182 acres and 230 acres of Guided Lake will be utilized. There will be fifteen large buildings and many smaller ones. Compared with the World's Fair it will be small, but it bids fair to be a success, celebrating as it does one of the greatest events in our national history.

The Hopkins faction seized the Illinois Democratic convention and ran rough shod over the other factions. Mayor Harrison was unseated as a delegate, on an aye and no vote, a roll call being refused. The Hearst people were given instructions, but the Hopkins crowd named the delegates and nominated the State ticket, headed by Lawrence B. Stricker for Governor. Two other candidates for Governor indignantly withdrew after denouncing the State "machine."

Another of those all too frequent horrors has occurred, in which the lives of hundreds of helpless little children have been destroyed and many a home doted with gloom. The mortality of the great Iroquois theatre fire in Chicago has been almost equaled by the burning of the General Slocum in New York city. As in the Chicago horror, nearly all of the victims in the present case were little children, bent on the pleasures of a holiday excursion outside the crowded walls of the great city.

The Board of Trustees of Vanderbilt has adopted a resolution forbidding the election of any man as teacher in the academic department who is not a member of the Methodist church. In view of the fact that Vanderbilt has not been considered a denominational school, this is a very important step.

John P. Quinn, the Hopkins champion in Illinois, double counted any gavel expert heretofore put to record. His opponents got a dose of Quinn-line they will never forget. He paid absolutely no attention to men or motions that interfered with his program.

The Republican National Convention will meet in Chicago next week and Roosevelt will be re-nominated without opposition. Fairbanks, of Indiana, will probably be his running mate, if he will accept the place.

WHOSE FAULT IS IT?

The grand jury of Christian county, in today's Kentuckian, publishes a sweeping condemnation of the present road system of the county. It is signed by all of the grand jurors, irrespective of party or race. It is a matter in which politics cuts but little figure, except in so far as the present system provides a soft place for a Republican office holder, whose position the grand jury declares is "unauthorized by the Statutes." The system provides for a commissioner who is in no sense held responsible for the condition of the roads. He is paid a large salary, any yet has no powers not delegated and directed by the Fiscal Court itself. The permanent road improvements are made mostly by contract and the commissioner does not even have control of the contractors. It is, or should be, a part of his duties to see that road overseers perform their duties, but this does not seem to have been done.

Among the many witnesses brought before the grand jury while the subject was undergoing investigation, were the six rural mail carriers of the city routes and they all told the same story of country roads in a most deplorable condition, with mudholes everywhere and culverts in a decaying and unsafe condition in many places. The grand jury was anxious to indict some one, but could not locate the responsibility. The road overseers have no money to spend, and can only make temporary improvements and remove obstructions. The commissioner acts under the direction of the Fiscal Court and has so well defined work, except the drawing of a salary, and the law does not recognize the legality of his office or impose a penalty for the neglect of his duties. This brings the matter to the Fiscal Court itself, and the people have a right to demand a system of road improvements that will call for an intelligent and economical expenditure of the funds provided by taxation for the improvement of public highways. If the roads are to be worked by contract, there is no need of a $1,000 commissioner. If the latter is to earn his salary, he should be given something to do and made a responsible agent of the Fiscal Court, subject to indictment for neglect of his official duties, and put under a bond sufficient to indemnify those who suffer damages from his neglect.

The present supervisor, Mr. D. T. Cranor, is probably not altogether to blame for the bad road under a system that the grand jury has seen fit to condemn so unreservedly. At any rate the grand jury has found no law to hold him responsible. But, being the chief beneficiary of the system, it is his duty to inspect the roads at once and assist the grand jury in locating the responsibility for their unsafe condition, and to make some recommendation to the Fiscal Court looking to improvements that will obviate the necessity of action by the grand jury.

The Court of Appeals has overruled the petition for a rehearing in the Jim Howard case and it is now up to Howard to spend the $3,000 raised for him by the Louisville Herald and try some new scheme to keep out of the penitentiary.

Capt. C. W. Longmire, of Lexington, was married June 14 to Miss Annie Ramsey, of Jackson, Ky., who captured his heart while the Captain was putting down the feud there last year.

Police men of Louisville who were laid off 16 days in 1894 to reduce expenses, have on a test case been given the back pay deducted, amounting in the aggregate to $12,000 principal and interest.

The new Episcopal council to elect a Bishop, since Dr. Jno. G. Murray has declined, will be held at Louisville, Sept. 21st. The same delegates who elected before will hold over.

HOT ROAST

Of Country Road System Given By Grand Jury.

Supervisor Would Be Indicted If Law Warranted Such Action.

We, the grand jury of Christian county, deplore the fact that according to the sworn evidence before us, many of the public roads in our county, and the culverts across them, are in a very bad condition, dangerous to the traveling public now in places, and in the winter season practically impassable. Our tax payers pay heavy revenues to keep up our roads, and deserve and have a right to expect at least fairly good roads in return.

Under the present system of maintaining the public roads in Christian county, there seems no one is subject to indictment for the condition of affairs except the road overseers. The road commissioner of the county is so appointed and hedged in by the orders of the Fiscal Court as to shield him from an indictment, he not occupying the place of road supervisor, the office created by the statutes of the State, but in fact holding a place and drawing a salary of $1,000 a year, unauthorized by the statutes, and by reason of this new and unauthorized position and salary he, as we are advised, cannot by this grand jury be held liable for his failure to keep up the public roads for which the people have paid their money, but in amenable only to the Fiscal Court for his acts.

We, therefore, condemn the entire system of maintaining our public roads, and the present condition of our roads, pikes and culverts as grossly inefficient and extravagant in paying the people's money in unwarranted salaries, and as a waste of the revenues of the county.

Murdered By a Woman.

John Irvin, a farmer near Lebanon Junction, was murdered by a negro woman named Maria Thompson, who crept up behind him while he was at work in his field and cut his throat with a razor. Irvin had made the woman's boy get out of his field. There was talk of lynching, but the sheriff took the woman to jail. Irvin lived but a few minutes after his throat was cut. Later the woman was hanged by a mob.

THANKFUL PEOPLE.

They are Found in Every Part Of Hopkinsville.

Many citizens of Hopkinsville have good reason to be thankful for burdens lifted from aching backs, which they bore patiently for years.
Scores tell about their experience publicly. Here's a case of it:
J. W. Tunks, of 312 West Seventh street, who is employed at M. C.

Forbes' playing hall, says: "The condition of my health was such as to cause me a great deal of worry about my future. I had an almost constant aching across the small of my back and the kidney secretions were highly colored, excessive and irregular, in fact, the disorder was so pronounced that it had been said that it bordered on diabetes. I also suffered at this time with indigestion, which caused me a great deal of distress. At one time I was scarcely able to do any work at all for nearly a year. I doctored and tried various remedies but nothing did me any permanent good until I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at Thomas & Trabert's drug store, and by the time I had finished the box I found that they had brought about so decided an improvement in my condition as to convince me of their real worth, and I am more than thankful for the relief that I have received."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co.,

United States.

NURSES ARE DETECTIVES.

Many of Both Sexes in England Act
as Feeders to Outside Officers.

To the credit of their great and noble profession, be it said, there are few medical men who would ever employ a female nurse knowing her to be connected, even in the remotest way, with the detective service. And yet, despite this, there are many nurses both male and female, though chiefly the latter, whose main business is that of acting as feeders of the detectives outside, states London Tit-Bits.

In many instances in the court of probate relating to wills during the last few years it has been shown beyond all doubt that anxious and suspicious relations have so arranged matters that testators, desperately ill, have been attended by nurse-detectives, whose mission it has been to see whether their charges were of sound "res-timentary disposition," and to ascertain, if possible, in what direction any money left in at new will would be likely to go. In one case the judge commented very severely on this matter, for the nurse-detective in this case had actually in the emergency of the moment been made one of the witnesses of the will in dispute.

In another case a nurse-detective had tried to extract admissions from a person seriously ill.

But one of the most sensational episodes of this kind was in connection with a case tried at the Newcastle-on-Tyne assizes. In the course of the trial it appeared that the nurse's patient had been placed under chloroform. In many cases persons recovering from the effects of the anesthetic in question are semi-hysterical and readily yield to the effects of suggestion, as in the case of hypnotized persons.

It was shown that the mere bab-

blings of the patient in the case in question had formed the basis of after-inquiry, and that the nurse's notes of the semi-incoherent things said by the patient were actually suggesting a part of the cross-examination, though the bar-rist did not know this and was only following the instructions in his brief.

CLOCK TAKES ONE DAY OFF
It Will Not Run on the Thirtieth of the Month for Reasons That Are Obvious.

"Speaking of the many curious things connected with the number 13 reminds me of a clock which has been in my family now for some time," said an observant man, according to the New Orleans Times-Democrat, "and the thing I have in mind has gone far toward making me believe in the claim that 13 is an unlucky number. The clock in question is of the cuckoo variety. Ordinarily it is one of the most reliable time-pieces I have ever seen. It keeps perfect time and never fails to 'cuckoo' promptly on the hour, except in the case I have in mind.

"If the thing had not happened in such regular order I would have paid no attention to it. But it has been happening once every month regularly from the very time we introduced the aforesaid clock into the family circle. And it always happens on the 13th of the month. My clock lays off, if I may say it, once every month. It refuses to work on that day which is associated with unlucky things.

Somehow it seems to know that 13 is an unlucky number. And it seems to think that it applies as much to dates as to other events and things. I have never been able to understand just why the clock should stop on this day and up to this good hour I am unable to give anything like a reasonable explanation of it. I only know my cuckoo clock will not work on the 13th day of the month no matter how well it is wound, or what the weather conditions may be, when the unlucky day rolls around the clock simply stops. It is a curious thing, isn't it?"

Few Mexicans Work.

More than eight million of the 13,500,000 people in Mexico do not work. Counting out the children and aged, there remain 3,774,148 possible producers who produce absolutely nothing. Then—and here is an astonishing figure—there are in domestic service 1, 488,024 against 116,000 of dignified salary earners.

Tears and Fears

Go together with many women who are approaching the first experience of maternity. The husband finds it hard perhaps to understand the changing moods of his wife. Indeed she cannot understand herself. She only knows that she is nervous, restless and anxious. A great change has come over her which she cannot understand or explain.

Women do not always reflect that at this crisis they are living for two instead of one; that they need health for two and strength for two. The need for increased health and strength by the prospective mother is perfectly met and satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It tranquilizes the nerves, promotes the appetite and gives refreshing sleep. It makes the baby's advent practically painless, and gives the mother strength to give her child.

"I have before written you of the great benefit both myself and family have received from your most excellent medicine," says Mrs. Z. S.

Peterson, of Welcome, Wis. "I have since tested its wonderful powers in the case of the coming of my fifth child. Took two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery' the first two months and three of 'Favorite Prescription' the last two months. It saved me so much terrible suffering that I consider it a heavenly blessing."

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

GILSONITE AND ELATERITE.

These Hydrocarbons Are Taking the Place of Vegetable Rubber in Manufactures.

The uses to which Gilsonite and elaterite are put are varied. There is a big shortage in the world's supply of vegetable rubber, and these hydrocarbons are now taking its place, says Mines and Minerals. They are made into a mineral rubber that unites perfectly with tree rubber, thus permitting a very large reduction in the amount of the latter used, and cheapening its cost materially. Second grade Gilsonite is used for paving cement by melting it with petroleum residue and mixing it with ground asphaltic limestone and the requisite amount of sand. Gilsonite is also manufactured into varnishes, lacquers, waterproof paint for gun carriages, and steel and wood work of every description known to shipbuilding; as a paint for ship bottoms, it prevents barnacles from attacking themselves. It is also used for pipe coatings, reservoir coatings, floorings, roofings, and railroad work. The following is a further list of some of its uses: For coating barbed wire fencing; coating sea walls of brick and masonry; coating paving brick; acid-proof lining for chemical tanks; roofing pitch; insulating electric wires; smoke-stack paint; coating poles, posts, and ties; lubricant for heavy machines; covering wood block paving; binding pitch for carbon in making coal briquettes.

Elaterite is being largely used now to make flexible and heat-proof varnish and paints, which are excellent for coating shaft and tunnel timbers, for painting hemp and wire hoisting ropes, pump columns, pipes, chains, ore cars, and all steel and iron work where the surfaces are exposed; also for coating yats, tanks, and pan covers used in chlorination works, smelters and refineries, and in the cyanide process. On ironwork it prevents corrosion and resists great heats. On woodwork it prevents absorption and defies the elements.

THEY MUST EAT ARSENIC.

Persons Employed Where the Drug Is Handled Feel a Demand for It.

Eating of arsenic in Styria. The Styrians say that arsenic makes one plump up one's countenance and gives one strength for great exertions such as running or mountain climbing, says the Chicago Tribune. Styria, in Austria, gives the world vast quantities of arsenic; the manufacture of this drug is indeed the main Styrian industry. They who make arsenic eat it, as a rule, for they say that only the arsenic eater can withstand the arsenic fumes.

These makers and eaters of the drug are comely. They have a blooming and a clear color. They look much younger than they are.

"The foreman in a certain arsenic factory told me that in his boyhood, when he first came to the plant, he was advised to begin to eat arsenic lest his health suffer from the fumes," says a toxicologist. "He did begin, and his first two or three small doses gave him a sharp pain, like a burn, in the stomach, and this pain was followed by tremendous hunger and a violent, disquieting excitement. But as his doses increased in frequency and size their effect became pleasant. There was no longer pain or excitement; on the contrary, there was a ravenous appetite and a mood of joyous activity wherein the youth could do three men's work."

"This chap, by the time he got to be 30, was taking four grains of arsenic a day. He looked at 30, with his clear pink and white color, no more than 23. He was as robust as a blacksmith. But he said he would die at 45 or so, that being the age at which all the Styrian arsenic eaters die."

The drug is a preservative, and in Styria, when graves are opened, bodies are found to be as fresh six or seven years after interment as on the day they were lowered into the earth.

On Double Header Played at Paducah Wednesday.

Clarksville Will Arrive This Morning For a Series of Games With Hopkinsville.

The Clarksville ball team will arrive here this morning and the first contest of the series with Hopkinsville will come off this afternoon at Athletic Park. The second game between the Tennesseans and the locals will be played to-morrow afternoon. These games promise to be well worth seeing and the attendance on both days will doubtless be very large.

Hopkinsville played a double header with Paducah, on the latter's grounds Wednesday, and the result was a stand off. Paducah won the first contest, the score being 3 to 1. In the second game Hopkinsville was victorious by the score of 4 to 1. On the same day at Clarksville Cairo lost to the Tennesseans, the score being 12 to 11 in favor of Clarksville. At Vincennes on Wednesday Henderson and the Indians played a double header. Vincennes took both games. In the first, the score was 9 to 1, and in the second 5 to 4.

In Tuesday's game at Paducah, between Hopkinsville and the Paducah, the latter won by the score of 3 to 2. At Cairo Tuesday Clarksville lost. Score, 3 to 2. At Vincennes, the same day, the Indians were victorious, the score being: Vincennes, 7; Henderson, 3. On Monday Hopkinsville and Cairo played a double header at Cairo. Hopkinsville took the first game by the score of 2 to 0. Cairo was victorious in the second game, the score being 4 to 3 in favor of the Egyptians. This was a ten inning contest. Paducah won from Clarksville at Paducah Monday. The game was a very close one, the score being 1 to 0. At Henderson Monday Vincennes lost to the Hens, being shut out. Score 4 to 0.

The following concerning the local boys was clipped from the Cairo Bulletin:

"The Hoppers are a clever set of gentlemanly young fellows that make friends not only for themselves, but for the city holding the franchise. Hopkinsville has been very fortunate this year and last in securing ball players who know now and do consider themselves in a manner that reflects great credit upon the gentlemen who are behind the team. They won their games from Cairo to the dead level and lost without a whimper, exhibiting the true sportsman's spirit."
